

TAPPI AICC Corrugated Week 2022

September 18-21, 2022 • San Antonio, TX

A lot has changed since the last Corrugated Week was held before the onset of the pandemic, but the North American corrugated industry is ready for another conference, with Corrugated Week 2022. TAPPI and AICC are once again co-hosting just as they did with SuperCorrExpo in August 2021, the first joint, in-person event held since the onset of the pandemic. Corrugated Week 2022 will be at the Henry B. González Convention Center in San Antonio, TX, with the Grand Hyatt serving as the official host hotel.

Corrugated Week 2022 brings together one of the largest groups of industry decision makers in North America — providing you with direct access through exclusive networking events and one of the largest gatherings of industry vendors under one roof. The conference program and topics will be unveiled soon, so now is the time to lock in the best hotel block rate.

Corrugated Week 2022 runs 19 — 21 September, at the Henry B. González Convention Center. Exclusive show days are 20 – 21 September, with special rates to attend just the exhibit. Visit corrugatedweek.org for hotel and travel information.

